

I have presented and trained hundreds of business owners along their path to success. My strength as a trainer and a presenter has always been my ability to take complex ideas and to break them down into small actionable pieces that are easy to implement, no matter what your current technical background or marketing level.

From keynotes presentations to small business seminars, and from webinars to one-on-one learning sessions, I am available to help you and your team—or your conference attendees—master the fine art and the science of online marketing.

Organizations I Have Presented For:

Speaking Topics Include:

- 3 Things All Businesses Need To Be Highly Successful
- From $80 to $8000 – Business Lessons Learned From A Mom Who Made It Happen
